Will Crow Wing county raise its quota of $15,000 in response to the American Red Cross War Council's second call for funds. In the campaign to be inaugurated May 20th and to continue for one week? The prompt response of County Chairman D. D. Schrader and the men he has associated with him as an advisory board is, SHE WILL.

A preliminary meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Tuesday afternoon and attended by the following members of the advisory committee: Chairman D. D. Schrader, George D. LaBar, William Cleary, O. A. Peterson, P. H. Simpson and F. T. Lincoln.

Chairman Named
The following committee chairmen have charge of the work of the coming drive were named:

The county will be divided into districts as in the recent Liberty Bond campaign and a district chairman named in each, he to name his assistants. Each branch and auxiliary of the Red Cross will be asked to name a chairman for their respective organizations, to act in harmony and under the direction of their district chairman.

Active Campaign

The campaign will be opened up with vim and determination to put the drive over on time and to meet our quota asked by the national organization.

The assistance of the clergy will be asked and to Dan Lawrence of the Y. M. C. A. will be left the responsibility of listing the pastors of the county in explaining from the pulpit the vital need of the Red Cross second war fund.

The complete list of all committees will soon be made public. The 4-Minute-Men will be on the job to assist in arousing the public to a keen realization of the necessity for prompt action, in order that the work of the Red Cross abroad may be continued.

It is to be thoroughly understood that this is a national call and that every dollar raised in this drive is to go to the National Red Cross War Fund. George D. LaBar will act as treasurer, as in the first drive nearly one year ago.

The headquarters for the chairman and his assistants will be at the Chamber of Commerce rooms and every assistance will be afforded D. D. Schrader.

Monster Parade

May 18 has been designated as "Parade Day" all over the United States and Paul G. Clarkson is planning upon the largest demonstration in this line ever pulled off in Brainerd.

All branches and auxiliaries are invited to be represented in this parade. A big public ball will be given, probably on May 20, the opening day of the big drive, the details to be announced later.

LIEUT. JOHN P. SOUSA

Famous band leader who has composed a new march.

Lieut. John Philip Sousa has composed a new march, "The Volunteer," and under his leadership the famous Great Lakes band will play it at the Auditorium, Chicago, May 9. The same evening the Great Lakes blue jackets will give the opening performance of "Leave It to the Sailors," a musical show. After two performances in Chicago the show will take the road. The proceeds go to the permanent fund of the Illinois Auxiliary of the Naval Relief society.

All is enthusiasm and determination to respond in a generous, universal manner to this call and meanwhile, the branches and auxiliaries which have raised monies by the monthly pledge plan will be able to continue the splendid work they are now doing. This War Fund campaign is distinctly a separate proposition from membership campaigns, and is a national call which must be responded to in a substantial manner.

Conference Soon

A conference of committee chairmen and the district chairmen is to be held in Brainerd soon at a dinner at which the details can be talked over and all arrangements made to give Chairman Schrader the support his unselfish devotion to the work so well merits.

MINNESOTA TO HAVE 2000 MILES OF NEW HIGHWAYS IN 1918

$4,500,000 State and Federal Funds to be Spent on Roads This Year

War Aids Projects—Rail Construction Halts—Bidding is Keen

More than 2,000 miles of new highways will be built in Minnesota this year under state supervision and with the aid of state and federal funds, making the most ambitious road building program the state has ever seen.

While work on many permanent improvements has been discouraged and curtailed during wartime, road-building is distinctly encouraged as a war measure, State Highway Commissioner C. M. Babcock said.

The roads of Minnesota, in the view of the authorities, are part of the lines of communication which will serve the boys at the front. Good roads to bring farm products to market will expedite the feeding of the nation's armies. More of the government's money will be spent on roads in Minnesota this year than ever before, and the federal authorities urge concentration on two things: completion of main traffic roads by building important connecting links, and maintaining roads already built to a high state of efficiency. Not less than $1,000,000 will be spent this year on maintenance of roads already built, Mr. Babcock estimated. "Our contracts made so far have been on favorable terms," he said. "We have been able to get bids even better than we expected. The reason for this is that railroad construction has been practically stopped, and large contracting organizations face the prospect of having their horses and equipment lie idle, an expense on their hands, unless they get other work. So the bidding for road contracts is keen."

Federal road projects for which contracts have already been let in Minnesota and on which work is in progress, are as follows:

County	Mileage	Cost
Pine	59	$188,000
Chicago	32	130,000
Miller	49	140,000
Sherburne	8	35,000
Goodhue	7	38,000
Redwood	14	45,000

Six federal road projects are pending and bids are to be opened on them in May, as follows:

Bids	Estimated
County	opened. Mileage. Cost
Crow Wing	May 7 22 $80,000
Freeborn	May 10 16 50,000
Carver	May 14 26 50,000
Wabasha	May 15 7 32,000
Washington	May 16 5 22,000
Goodhue	May 17 4 20,000

Several other federal road projects are being worked out, but have not reached the stage of asking for bids. All roads under way and to be built this year will be graded and surfaced with gravel, the cost varying mainly according to the accessibility of gravel supplies.

Conscription in Abeyance Few Weeks

(By United Press)

London, May 1—The News says the government is holding Irish conscription in abeyance for a few weeks seeing how the home rule bill takes.

The Bay Lake Red Cross auxiliary held their regular monthly social evening on Saturday, April 27. The South Bay Lake people had full charge of the affair and deserve much credit for their excellent management, making it the largest, most spirited gathering of its kind yet held at Bay Lake.

The meeting was held at R. J. Maghan's place in the big barn loft, making a splendid hall with its decorations of flags and evergreens.

Three long tables were set and over 200 partook of the good supper.

The Long Lake orchestra furnished music during the supper hour and through the evening. A half hour of three minute talks followed and many good thoughts and suggestions were brought out by the different members. Next was a short program by the Esdon school children.

At a previous meeting it was voted that each man in Bay Lake town, raise 10 bushel of potatoes for the Red Cross. An agreement pledging themselves was signed by nearly all men present at this meeting on Saturday night.

The evening was concluded by an auction sale of articles brought there for that purpose. Proceeds of the evening netted $135.00 and over $60 per month was pledged for the coming busy months.

MAKES GOOD RECORD

All Ninth District States Win Honor Flags.

Every County Is Entitled to An Emblem and Also Nearly Every City, Village and Township.

Minneapolis, May 1.—The Ninth Federal Reserve district is believed to have made records in Liberty Loan drive unequalled anywhere in the country. Here they are:

Every one of the six states in the district has earned the right to an honor flag denoting over-subscription.

Every county in each of the six states has earned the same right.

Nearly every city, village and township in the six states will have earned the right to the honor flag when the reports are all in. It is believed.

5,000 Flags Ordered.

Orders for 5,000 honor flags have already been sent to Washington. It is believed by those in charge that they will all be used.

Sufficient official reports are at hand to make definite allotments of the honor flags to all the states. Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Michigan are all entitled to state flags.

The unofficial figures indicated that every single county was coming through with a clean record. The official reports on the counties in the six states showed over-subscriptions as follows: Minnesota, 86; Montana, 44; North Dakota, 53; South Dakota, 63; Wisconsin, 27; Michigan, 15. Cities, villages and towns in the various states have been allotted flags as follows: Minnesota, 923; Montana, 176; North Dakota, 374; South Dakota, 569; Wisconsin, 122; Michigan, 10.

As the official reports come in the number of the cities, villages and towns entitled to honor flags will continue to grow, in the opinion of those in charge. —BUY W. S. S.—

WHY

Students Expect History to Repeat Itself

The numeral "II" was regarded by the Romans as unlucky, and, when reading history, it would seem that it has proved so with dynasties. It is recorded in English history, observes a writer in London Tit-Bits, that Ethelred II, the Unready, brought disaster upon himself and upon Britain; Harold II, was killed at the battle of Hastings, 1066; William II.—"Rufus"—was killed by an arrow in the New forest; Edward II. was defeated at Bannockburn, and imprisoned; Charles II. had to fight for his throne and had a turbulent reign; James II. was deposed.

The same thing is noticeable in French, Russian and German history. John II, of France was captured at the battle of Poitiers; Charles II, of Anjou was in captivity most of his life. Alexis II, son of Peter the Great of Russia, was condemned to death for treason and died in prison; Alexander II, of Russia was assassinated. And today Nicholas II, of Russia has been driven into exile.

Francis II, of Germany was beaten by Napoleon, and if the superstition concerning the evil influence of the numeral "II" upon kings holds good, William II.—the Kaiser—who is responsible for the present war, must come to a bad end.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

Wastefulness Is Sinful; It Is a Crime When the Nation Calls for Thrift—Pointers.

The lover of thrift is often confronted by directions for household economy emanating, as trial shows, from abstract, rather than practical, domestic science. Try these suggestions from an old-fashioned New England housewife:

1. Eggs are not needed for a rice pudding.
2. Milk is not needed in cake made with baking powder.
3. Milk is not needed for any kind of whole wheat bread. Even when milk abounds and is cheap, water is preferable.
4. Half, or even quarter, of a yeast cake will raise a good amount of bread for baking.
5. "War Cake" which calls for a package of raisins and much shortening is not economical.
6. Do not allow a servant to throw out remnants of shredded wheat left in the bottom of the box. More than a cupful is often so lost.
7. An unstrained soup made from remnants of yesterday's meat makes a good meal. No meat course is required therewith.
8. Are you careful to make as many pies as possible from one squash?
9. Are you careful to allow every bit of the white to drain, or to scrape it, from an egg which you break?
10. Neither broken crackers, nor the crumbs in the bottom of the box should be thrown away. Use them for fish, oysters, etc.
11. Memoranda of all sorts, as well as rough drafts of Miss, may be kept on pieces of wrapping paper. This is the kind of economy which good housewives practiced during the Civil war.
12. Remember that the old New Englander considered wastefulness, even among the rich, sinful. It is a crime when the nation calls for thrift.

—Florence Mary Bennett of The Vigilantes.

Much in Little.

Nearly all of the principal cities of England have police uniforms. The French "horizon blue" is said to be the best color for a military uniform. Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, California and South Carolina are the leading states in rice production. The Dominican republic contains a greater amount of virgin land than any other island in the West Indies. Little children of Montenegro attend small flocks of sheep while the older folks are busy with war work.

How Germans Destroyed the Forests and Orchards in Belgium and France

Apart from their cruelty to human beings, one of the worst offenses perpetrated by the Germans in Belgium and that part of France which they have overrun is the destruction of trees, notes the Indianapolis Star. Wantonly to destroy orchards and forest trees as they have done for the purpose of making a desert of the land that had been like a garden is a crime against civilization. In Belgium they cut the forests, not as they cut their own, where only a certain number of trees are allowed to be felled each year, but sweepingly, leaving the land denuded. A hundred years will be needed to restore these forests, and trees are needed for the welfare of every land.

In this country we have been too careless with our forests; they have not been protected as they should be since the pioneers first cleared enough of them away to make the farms. Now we are beginning to realize their value not only as a direct source of revenue, but as an aid in conserving moisture for cultivated lands and also as a source of beauty. And if one wishes to look at the matter commercially, beauty of landscape is in these days recognized as a distinct and valuable asset. There is needed more trees and a wider and better understanding among the people as to what may and should be done in the way of planting trees and improving forests.

It is among young people that this interest in trees must be cultivated; they must learn the importance of orchards and forests and if a love for trees can be inculcated it will prove itself in years to come by many a tree that is a glory to the land.

HITS AT WARMONGERS

Maximilian Harden Says They Should Be Muzzled.

German Editor Finds No Justification For Clothing Over Alleged Tautonic Triumphs.

London.—By reading the following extract from a recent number of the Zukunft, Maximilian Harden's German newspaper, one may understand why Herr Harden is in constant difficulties with the military authorities:

"After all, what special justification is there for the Pen-Germans and the war at any price month heroes to brag over recent triumphs over the English?"

"It is true that the U-boats have contrived to bring it about that in an English hotel or boarding house no more meat is supplied at breakfast and that afternoon tea guests receive only an ounce and a half of bread or cake. Also an old maid of Dover, who fed her fourteen little dogs with milk and biscuits, has had to atone for her crime with a five pound note. All this, however, does not yet spell the decay of the British empire."

"It is time that the warmongers were muzzled and that the authorities once for all gave them to understand that they are determined, whenever the claims of any nation or group of peoples are found to be justified, that Germany would honestly aid them in establishing themselves on a clean basis of self-government."

"May our rulers reflect while yet there is time that, unless a new order be substituted for the old one of violence and force, human life will become intolerable and all hopes of human development will be rendered sterile for ages to come."

"Questions of the very highest importance are at stake, questions that are not concerned about securing Germany's world power, but that involve the utilization of that power in the upbuilding of a new, bright and joyful human world, in which, if its foundations are to stand strong for all time, every nation, the greatest, the smallest—Germany as well as all the others—must sacrifice self to secure its neighbor's welfare."

"This is the command of the hour. Dare Germany hesitate in obeying it?"

For the Temporary Repair Of Broken Spectacle Lens

Those who are so unfortunate as to have to wear glasses know what inconvenience and discomfort are caused by breaking a lens and having to wait for a new one. Matters are helped some if a repair can be effected, states an authority. This is not always possible but if the break is a simple fracture, the following method produces a good repair:

Soften gum shellac in alcohol and apply it to the edges to be cemented. Press the edges firmly together and hold in position for a few minutes. Then lay the lens on a pad of cotton or soft cloth for an hour or two, so that the shellac may harden enough to stand usage. Note that the shellac is not to be dissolved in the alcohol—just soften until it can be spread on the edges of the glass.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION REQUIRES REPORT ON FLOUR SUPPLIES BE MADE BY MAY 1

To the People of Minnesota:

The Federal Food Administration hereby requires everyone who has more than 30 days' supply of wheat flour to return the flour at once to the dealer or miller from whom it was purchased or report to his County Food Administrator. This order applies to every one no matter when or how the flour was obtained. Thirty days' supply is determined on the basis of 6 lbs. for each member of the household. A family of four may have 24½ lbs. of wheat flour, and a family of eight, 49 lbs. Substitutes may be purchased in any amounts desired.

It is not assumed that having an excess of flour on hand makes one a hoarder. It does not. In normal times it is an indication of thrift and sensible buying to purchase flour in reasonably large quantities. We do not want any one who is following his normal methods and has an excess of flour on hand to feel in any way that he has done wrong. He has not.

NEED OF FLOUR GREAT.

But conditions now are far from normal, hence this call. America and the Allies are short of wheat and wheat flour. The Allies are driven desperately for food. We are under obligations to furnish the food. Shipping facilities are limited. Bread they must have and bread we must furnish them. The government must know how much flour there is in the country and where it is. Our own people must use other foods which we have in abundance and save flour.

HOARDING.

Any one who insists on keeping more than one month's supply of flour is using more than 6 lbs. per person per month is considered a hoarder and will be dealt with accordingly. Hoarding of necessary foods is punishable by a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for two years or both. It is hoped that no one in Minnesota will place himself in the hoarder class. We beg of the people to respond at once to this call and on or before May 1st, 1918, to dispose of any excess flour or report to their County Food Administrator as follows:

HAVE NO USE IN COMMERCE

Almost No Possibility That Submarine
 Boats Will Ever Be Employed as Cargo Carriers.

One point about submarines which is being settled for many years to come, if not forever, is that there is no place for them in the commerce of peace.

If they ever had a chance of profitable employment in carrying cargoes or passengers, that opportunity would be found now. Germany has a few ports open to her ships in neutral countries, if vessels in the service of German owners could get there, and in some of them freight might be found which is much needed in Germany. But no commercial submarines are ever reported to be visiting the harbors of Spain or Chile or Mexico or Colombia.

And now is the time when the greatest maritime countries on the other side in the world war might be tempted to use submarines for practically complete security from other submarines if the economic obstacles were not too formidable. The fact that nothing is done with submarines in trade between countries whose coasts are menaced by the German U-boats is convincing evidence that the submarine has no commercial future.

It would be rash to predict that the exploit of the Deutschland will never be duplicated under the conditions of war. Circumstances may some time justify such use of submarines for a brief period. But business fleets of submarines are destined to remain an inventor's dream.

MICE STEAL AND STORE GRAIN

Damage Done by Little Rodents in Cause of Considerable Loss to the Producer.

Little do people know about our native mice and their allies, as they are mainly nocturnal in their habits, and were it not for the discovery of their ruins in the leaf mold, their nests in the fields and the annoyance that they sometimes cause their existence would hardly be suspected, says W. L. Beechert in the Boy Scouts' Magazine. The owl and the fox could tell us much about the prevalence and the ways of these little folk. As I have lived for a number of years in close proximity to the woods, I have had my share of mice about the premises. I have caught the white-footed or deer mouse, the jumping mouse, the red-backed mouse and that measly little foreigner, the common house mouse, and, as if that were not enough, there are two or three species of shrew-mice and moles.

Once I had occasion to clean away rubbish that had collected in a corner near bags of grain. As I picked up an old shoe something in it rattled. I turned it upside down and a handful of grain fell out. A pickle bottle was half full of corn. From a roll of roofing paper a quantity of grain rolled out, and here and there I found little heaps of corn and wheat. White-footed mice had supplied themselves well at my expense, but only the mice themselves could tell what they had carried off to parts unknown. I hastened to the store and purchased two small mouse traps. Mice are innocent and unsuspecting little creatures. In a short time peace and quiet reigned over my grain bags.

Tremendous Assaults On Fifteen

 British and French,

LOCRE IS RECOVERED

Germans Suspend Futile Attack On Ypres Line—Leave Dead Lying Thick—Amiens Defense Is Greatly Improved.

London, May 1.—The Ypres front is quiet.

After the severe defeat he suffered, General von Arnim, the German commander, failed to strike back. Before the British and French positions the ground is covered with the gray-clad bodies of dead German soldiers, mutely testifying to the magnitude of the defeat inflicted on the Teutons.

British Army Headquarters in France, May 1.—Between La Clytte and Mont Kemmel the Allies have been able to advance their line. Some progress south of that region also has been made.

The artillery is increasingly busy from Vimy northward.

Thus far the German capture of Kemmel hill has done them little good, for the Entente Allied artillery has kept the crest so smothered in shell fire that it has been impossible for the enemy to occupy it in force. Germans Lie Thick.

With the British Armies in Flanders, May 1.—Monts Rouze and Noir (two miles west of Mont Kemmel) are well named. On their slopes the German lie thick, weltering in their own blood—a gruesome testimonial of French tenacity.

(The French word "rouge" means red or bloody; "noir" means foul or horrible.)

Further north, around Voormezele (less than two miles south of Ypres) the flat fields are full of terrible sights. Here British divisions taught the stormers with artillery and machine gunfire, decimating the enemy, who fought well and with courage. The farms here are strewn with cadavers.

Von Arnim put in about five fresh divisions (60,000 men) two days ago. Now their freshness is considerably worn off. The British 25th, 49th and 21st divisions repulsed at least 10 attacks.

Foe Utterly Repulsed.
 London, May 1.—Last reports from the Flanders battlefield only serve to emphasize the completeness of the victory won by the Anglo-French forces in withstanding the tremendous assault by which the Germans hoped to break into the Allied hill positions southwest of Ypres and begin cutting this way on toward the channel ports.

The situation seems to have been one of the Entente high command deciding once more to make a stand after having forced the Germans to use up tens of thousands of men in fighting their way desperately forward as far as they have. The decision made, the stand was taken and the Germans were stopped, as they have been previously on other fields since the great offensive opened March 21.

FOE USES MANY MEN.

The enemy, it is estimated, threw as many as 12 divisions or about 175,000 men, into the attack on this 12 mile front, but despite continuous furious assaults was held almost in his tracks everywhere.

A most welcome feature of the news is the announcement that the French, in a crucial part of the line, at Locre, have not lost any part of their hold on this dominating ground. They now have undisputed possession of Locre itself for the first time in several days and apparently have killed off the enemy efforts to edge in around that place and force its abandonment.

RUSS TO RE-ENTER WAR

Preparations Being Made, Says
 Report From Petrograd.

Nation Must Fight or Become Object of Contention and Division for Other Powers.

Petrograd, May 1.—(Delayed.)—Serious preparations are being made by Russia to re-enter the war, so far as present circumstances will make it possible.

The panexecutive council at Moscow on the eve of the receipt of the "42nd ultimatum," from Germany, adopted War Commissary Trotsky's plan of universal military training for all men from 16 to 40 and conscription of all workers and peasants. Those not belonging to these classes will be forced to train, but will not be taken into the army until necessary.

OLD OFFICERS CALLED.

Old specialists in military apparatus and the best general officers have already been called into service and the elective committee system in the army have been abolished, only the civil commissaries being retained.

The new plan is expected to yield a large army within 10 months.

The opposition charges that the soviet government is aiming at its own preservation, rather than the defense of Russia.

PLAN TO TAKE UP ARMS.

British, Japanese and American representatives attended the meeting. All parties agreed that Russia's slogan now is:

"Return to the war as soon as possible."

Either that or Russia must become the object of contention and division for the other powers.

If the Allies hold until next spring Russia will be able to strike with new, fresh millions—and the doom of Germany will be sealed.

SEEKS TO AVOID
LABOR CONFLICTS

GOVERNMENT CONTINUES CONCILIATION PROGRAM BUT WON'T PERMIT HOLD-UPS.

NO BLOCKING WAR WORK

Senator Hollis Says Senator Cummins Is Good Presidential Timber—Congressman Meyer London's Remarkable Tribute to New York City.

BY ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—From the time the United States entered the war there has been grave danger of a conflict with labor in regard to the manufacture of supplies necessary to equip the United States to perform its part in the great struggle. So far as possible the government has made concessions and nothing has been left undone to avoid strikes and to conciliate the workmen wherever differences have arisen. The conciliation program will be continued to the utmost and the government will do everything in its power to prevent any open breach with labor, in order to avoid the disagreeable consequences which would ensue.

It may be stated, however, that there is a strong undercurrent in official circles, and particularly in congress, against anything that looks like a "hold-up," particularly upon work which is of vital importance to the government at this time. While there will be a great reluctance in regard to legislation or executive action which will look anything like the conscription of labor, there is a good deal said to the effect that the government conscripts men and makes them fight for the country, and if the time comes when it is necessary men will be conscripted to work for the country.

Nominations for president are always in order in congress. Senator Hollis of New Hampshire followed Senator Cummins of Iowa in a speech upon the Overman bill, and although he opposed the position of Cummins, the first part of his speech was devoted to eulogistic praise of the Iowa senator, highly commending his speech as "an inspiring and whole-souled address." He also paid his tribute to the Iowa senator's "sincerity, intelligence and loyalty. The senator from Iowa is himself a man who fully measures up to the presidential stature. His party has several times done worse than it would have done had it nominated him for president," said Mr. Hollis.

There are quite a number of Democrats who believe that Cummins would have been elected in 1916 if he had been nominated. Most of the Democratic senators at that time, however, preferred Elihu Root for president, if the Republicans were to have the presidency. At the present time, while the Republicans are still engaged in something of a still hunt for a candidate in 1920, it is believed Senator Cummins may yet be considered a candidate, although the matter of age will be raised against him in 1920, as he will be 70 years old at that time.

A few weeks ago when some senator while speaking on the floor mentioned the house of representatives, many of his colleagues assumed to be profoundly shocked. Up they jumped with strong protests against his rudeness. It seems that any such reference is against the rules—why, heaven only knows. The house is not so considerate. Replying to Minority Leader Kitchin's prediction that congress would be ready to adjourn July 1, the Republican chieftain, Congressman Gillett, expressed doubt as to the "power of the senate to suppress its love for expression."

Kitchin intimated that his confidence in the senate's speed has "grown considerably in the last three or four months, because it has done more work, passed more legislation, from December till now than it has in the last 18 years in the same length of time."

"I congratulate the gentleman," broke in Madden of Illinois, "on his power to exercise influence over the senate. He is the first man in the house who has been able to do it."

New York City is famous for other things besides cabarets, the Four Hundred, and the East side. So says Meyer London, lone Socialist congressman, who lives in the "big town." "Do not forget," he remarks, "that while Boston claims to be the center of American civilization it is New York that is the center of this country. New York has the best schools, the best colleges, the best universities, and all in all New York is a miniature edition of America."

"I want to add the best congressman," sarcastically declared J. Garland Dupre, a loyal son of Louisiana; an opinion in which London brazenly concurred.

DISLOYAL TALK IS DOING MUCH HARM

PRO-GERMAN PROPAGANDA FORCES ENACTMENT OF LEGISLATION VERY DRASTIC.

DEMANDED BY THE PEOPLE

Freedom of Speech and Press Must Be Curtailed to Suppress Sedition—Mr. Nelson Calls for Appliance to Extinguish Submarines.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—The pro-German element in the United States is forcing the enactment of more drastic legislation which ordinarily people would not like to see on the statute books. Disloyal utterances which have tended to discourage service in the army and navy, hinder the sale of United States bonds and War savings stamps, and in other ways interfere with the prosecution of the war, form a part of the German propaganda that has been tolerated under the laws of the country governing free speech and the freedom of the press. Speeches and articles of this character have done very much damage by their influence, which encourages activities of pro-Germans against the United States.

These activities are of all kinds and character, such as are exposed from day to day since the beginning of the war. Doubt is expressed whether legislation against public utterances and violent language used in pro-German circles will have the effect of reaching the spies and other German sympathizers who are working in the interest of the kaiser. These work in secret and are not the loud-mouthed blatherskites whose disloyalty is expressed in words rather than deeds. However, the sentiment among the people, as shown in reports reaching Washington, is in favor of drastic legislation against those who are encouraging disloyalty.

The defeat of Joseph E. Davies for the senatorship in Wisconsin was a severe disappointment to the administration and also to many of the personal friends of Davies, for he had become very popular during the past few years that he has held an important position in the capital. The disappointment of the Democrats was voiced in statements issued by the national committee explaining the result in Wisconsin and criticizing the methods of the Leavenworth campaign.

The most significant fact was the most dangerous fact was that more than 100,000 men in Wisconsin voted for the candidate opposed to the war and so indicated that nearly one-third of the people of the great state were disloyally inclined.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver clean, almost every morning, to vent its sponge-like pores from gelling with indigestible material, bile and poisonous toxins, says a physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, if tongue, nasty breath or stomach comes rancid, it's your liver. Skin, muddy complexion, watery all denote liver uncleanness. Liver is the most important, also most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function to release the dammed-up waste, bile and toxins. Most resort to violent calomel, which, dangerous, salivating chemical, can only be used occasionally to accumulate in the tissues, attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, six well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver bowls the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile toxins; thus cleansing, sweet and refreshing the entire alimental canal before putting more food in the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not irritate the diet like calomel, because it can salivate, for it is harmless. You can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless. Any pharmacist will sell you a quart, which is sufficient for a year. Send for testimonials, from F. J. CHENEY & Co. Sold by all druggists, 75c.

FOUGHT FOR THE FLAG

Geo. W. Washburn Died in Minneapolis,
Uncle of G. A. and W. E.
Liveley of Brainerd

G. A. Liveley and W. E. Liveley returned last evening from Minneapolis where they attended the funeral of their uncle George W. Washburn. Mr. Washburn was a veteran of the Civil war, fighting in the ranks of the Union army in one of the Pennsylvania regiments. He went through many of the big battles sustaining a wound that caused him to lose his leg. His one regret was that he was unable to serve his country at the present time. His last request was to his wife to bring him the flag. He said that this is the "dear thing" that you have brought me. Mr. Washburn who was eighty-nine years of age when he died was of German descent. He was the kind of an American the country is proud of.

In addition to a number of relatives in Brainerd and vicinity he leaves a wife and son.

Chain Letters for Sale of War Savings Stamps not Considered Proper Medium

This letter from the "Minnesota W. S. S. Progress" of April 24th takes up a phase of stamp selling and considers chain letters undesirable:

Washington, D. C., March 19, 1918
Mr. J. H. Meyerling,
Vice-Director,
Minnesota War Savings
Committee,
Minneapolis, Minn.

Dear Sir: I have your letter of March 15th with regard to the use of chain letter in our campaign. This scheme has gradually spread over the entire country, although we have discouraged the practice whenever it has come to our attention, for we have felt that the publicity obtained in this manner is not very valuable.

In the past, the chain letter has been so generally connected with fraudulent advertising schemes of various sorts that people look upon it with distrust. Recipients of such letters boosting the sale of Thrift Stamps are very apt to be chilled toward our campaign.

Therefore, I trust that you will discourage continuance of the chain wherever possible.

Yours very truly,

HARRISON B. RILEY,
Federal Director.

SLAP AT DEMOCRACY

the Minister of War.

Washington, May 1.—Colonization of Courland, Lithuania and large part of Poland, seizing of coal and iron mines in France and Russia and domination of Flanders coast would be the fruits of "the true German peace," as outlined in a political catechism circulated on the western front among German soldiers.

An official dispatch from France said that when the catechism was read before the Reichstag by Deputy Noske, the minister of war said he was ignorant of it, whereupon Deputy Erbberger replied that he had delivered a copy of the pamphlet to the minister several weeks ago.

"The catechism which was distributed with the approbation of the military authorities," the dispatch said, "contains such sentences as these:

"Democracy is the worst of all regimes. The democratic parties of the Reichstag wanted to force us by means of strikes and seditions to sign a shameful peace. Money is the mainspring of democratic regime. The motto, 'Liberty, Equality, Fraternity' cloaks an association of international brigands. Parliament is a shop for gossip. The true German peace will give us for colonization the lands of Courland, Lithuania and a large part of Poland as well as the coal and iron mines in the west and in the east. This peace will assure us the domination of the coast of Flanders."

AMATEUR CRITICS GOING RATHER FAR

SOME CONGRESSMEN EVEN TAKE
EXCEPTION TO DISPOSITION OF FIGHTING FORCES.

ADVISED TO KEEP HANDS OFF

Senator Stone Wants to Know if Proposed Restrictions Will Prevent His Expressing His Opinion of Swivel-Chair Officers.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Management of military affairs in time of war is never satisfactory to congress. Going back to the time of the revolution, it is found that the management of military affairs always had severe critics in congress. This was particularly true also during the Civil war and would have been so in the Spanish war if congress had remained in session during the progress of that short conflict.

Certain members of congress not only have shown a disposition to criticize the war department and its lack of co-ordination and activity in furnishing troops for the fighting in France, but some members go much further and become critics of the disposition of the troops, particularly as to what organizations ought to be sent abroad. Friends of the marine corps—and this corps has more friends in congress than any other branch of the service—complained rather bitterly because more marines were not sent abroad as a part of the army. It was not known whether General Pershing or the war department was responsible, but at all events it was a criticism of the management of military affairs which brought forth a rebuke by those who believe that for the present, at least, it is well for congress to keep hands off of the actual management of war activities.

Erroneous impressions get abroad on slight provocation. A former member of congress was in Washington the other day and told me of an experience he had which shows the necessity for exercising care in making statements involving facts and figures. He said he stepped into a little tailor shop and while he was waiting for some work to be done the tailor informed him that there were 62,000 army officers in the city of Washington. The ex-congressman asked me if that could possibly be true. Of course it was an absurdity and it might have been an erroneous print where somebody attempted to say 6,200, which was much nearer the truth. There are a very large number of army officers in the city of Washington and it is causing a great deal of adverse comment, but 62,000 officers are about one-half of all the officers in the entire United States army.

Senator Stone of Missouri was asking whether under the proposed new law for restricting freedom of speech he would be allowed to use language which he once applied to men in Washington who were far from the firing line. "I characterized them as swivel-chair, safety first officers," he remarked. The Missouri senator went on to say that he was criticized for using the term, but he felt that it was applicable to many of the officers in Washington, and he wanted at the same time to pay the highest possible tribute to the "man with a gun in his hand," who was ever ready to do his duty no matter where that duty called him.

Senator Williams of Mississippi wanted to talk, not an uncommon want in the senate of the United States, but several senators insisted upon calling for the "regular order." It was in the early part of the session and it appears that there is a time when a call for the regular order will shut off speeches of senators who try to keep the floor.

Senator Saulsbury of Delaware, as president pro tem, was in the chair at the time, and held that Williams should stop talking. "Very well," remarked the Mississippi senator, "I am doubly glad that the senator from Delaware happens to be presiding officer of this august body. I have been waiting for years for some assertion that at some time, somewhere, somehow, a senator might be cut off from talking indefinitely; and I am glad to welcome the fact that I am the senator who has been cut short."

Senator Tillman of South Carolina, who everybody thought was going to die a few years ago, is in fairly good health and is a candidate for re-election this fall. "I am in better health than I have been in three years," he remarked, "and it is all due to the fact that I have just learned in the late years of life how to take care of myself. AUSTRIA FACES LABOR TROUBLES

Unmistakable Signs of Unrest in Dual Monarchy May Lead to Revolution.

PEOPLE DESIRE PEACE

Jugoslav Province Is the Scene of Very Serious Demonstrations and Workmen at Many Points May Soon Go On Strike.

London, May 1.—Reuter's Limited sends out a dispatch saying: "Serbian sources declare that an approaching revolution in Austria-Hungary is daily becoming more evident. Serbs, Croats and Slovenes are holding a plebiscite in favor of a union with Serbia and Montenegro in one state, with King Peter of Serbia as ruler.

"Demonstrations of a very serious character are taking place in the Jugoslav province," says the dispatch. "At the request of the Austrian government and with the sanction of the Pope, the Nuncio at Vienna has opened a disciplinary inquiry against the Archbishop of Carniola for placing himself at the head of the revolutionary movement. Great developments are expected."

Peace Strike Is Probable.
Berne, May 1.—How far reaching are the plans of the Austro-Hungarian Socialists for a great peace strike, and how open are their threats is shown by the following manifesto issued in Vienna:

"The war has caused immeasurable sufferings to the proletariat of all countries. We are tired of war. May day will demonstrate that we favor a general peace. We will show the rulers that the masses of Austria do not desire to crush our enemies and to achieve conquests, but that we desire only a truly conciliatory peace, based upon understanding among the nations.

"We will celebrate May day by not working."

Washington Sees Trickery.

Washington, May 1.—Officials here regard the report that Emperor Charles is about to offer a separate peace to Italy with the same sentiments they repeatedly have expressed toward other peace offers. Although without any information other than that contained in a Stockholm dispatch, they freely expressed the opinion that the chief purpose of such an offer was to create discord among the Italians to weaken their resistance and at the same time attempt to quiet unrest among the Austrian people.

DRAW PLAN TO EXPEDITE DRAFT

Scheme for Expansion of Army Is Prepared by President Wilson and Cabinet.

CALL MEN AS NEEDED

Amendment to Selective Service Law Is Desired Providing Executive With Blanket Authority to Increase Army.

Washington, May 1.—A surprise for congress has been prepared by President Wilson and his cabinet with the plan adopted for expansion of the army.

It is understood to have been decided to request an amendment to the selective service law which will provide the president with blanket authority to make such increases as the war situation may demand now or at any future time.

The purpose in urging such broad powers for the chief executive is to avoid the dangerous delays caused by lengthy discussions in Congress every time such a measure comes up.

The point is made that Congress will still have a check on the situation, as applications for equipment, supplies and transportation must be legislated for as each increase is made.

Depend On Ships.

Back of the plan appears an unmistakable purpose to limit American participation only to the capacity of overseas transportation facilities. In the program for immediate increases, the War department, with the co-operation of the shipping board, is believed to have prepared another surprise. The number of troops which can be transported across the Atlantic within the next 90 days is said to be greater than any official of the government believed possible one month ago.

The only official statement obtainable at the close of the cabinet meeting was that the plan Secretary of War Baker will submit to the house military affairs committee will be President Wilson's plan. It is understood that immediate appropriations for an increase of more than 1,000,000 men will be made.

Secretary Baker informed Chairman Dent, of the committee, he would be prepared to appear with all details within the next 48 hours.

Crowder Makes Request.

Provost Marshal General Crowder has requested Congress to eliminate from the bill extending the draft to youths now 21 years of age, the amendment putting at the bottom of the eligible list those who would register under the measure and asked that the bill basing draft quotas on the number of men in Class I be amended to make its operation retroactive.

General Crowder made his request in letters to the chairmen of the Senate and House military committees.

Of the proposal to put the new registrants at the bottom of the list of eligibles, General Crowder said:

"The plan proposed by this office would result in the registrants being given order numbers scattered throughout the entire list of order numbers. This seems to be fairer than the plan proposed by the amendment. The result of the House amendment in many jurisdictions will be to delay the calling of these young men for a considerable time. In the meantime their status will have changed. They will have married or become integrated with the industries of the country.

Moreover it establishes a precedent which may be appealed to provided aliens are registered under the provisions of the new legislation, based upon treaties to be negotiated."

Jewish Colonies Devastated.

New York, May 1.—The Jewish colonies recently liberated by the British forces under General Allenby from the Turks now are in a fairly satisfactory condition, according to a report received hereby the provision of a Zionist committee from the Jewish administrative commission. The commission, which has just completed a tour of the colonies, reports, however, that Petachitkiah, which for a time was turned into a "no man's land" by the Turkish and British forces, is badly devastated.

GREGORY ADVISED TO CRUSH SPYING

ATTORNEY GENERAL INFORMED PEOPLE ARE READY TO RE-VIVE LYNCH LAW.

ARE TIRED OF DISLOYALTY

"Explosions" in Senate Probably Are Due to Nervous Condition of Senators, as Well as to Politics, and More May Be Expected.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington. — Attorney General Gregory has been advised by his fellow cabinet officers to enforce the espionage law with a great deal of vigor, and to leave nothing undone to stop German propaganda, to secure German spies, and to squelch disloyalty wherever found. He has been told that unless the government takes vigorous action to prosecute its enemies within its borders, there will be a reign of lynch law, and that German sympathizers will be found adorning lamp posts or suspended from the limbs of trees.

Men who circulate among the people, and particularly a large number of officials who come in contact with people from all over the country and have sources of information from all sections, say that the people of this country are very much disturbed on account of the signs of disloyalty which are constantly cropping out in different places. More particularly this is brought out on account of the success which the Germans achieved in the great offensive on the western front. True Americans were sincerely depressed at that time, and it made them boil with anger to see or hear expressions of exultation on the part of people who have been sheltered under the Stars and Stripes for many years, whether they be American citizens or aliens.

It is believed that the department of justice has instructed its agents in all parts of the country to use the utmost vigilance in suppressing disloyalty to this country.

In times such as these there are bound to be explosions. Several weeks ago everything was running along smoothly, and then there was the Chamberlain explosion, which resulted in several days of ardent debate of a more or less partisan nature. Then the country settled down and Washington seemed to be very quiet, when all at once the senate blew up with a bang. Senator Lodge lifted the lid and other senators followed in severe criticism of the failure to properly put the army in fighting trim and furnish it with all the implements that it needed.

No doubt the last explosion was due to the nervous condition of senators who were just then feeling very apprehensive on account of the great German drive. Probably there will be similar explosions as the war progresses, for it is not in the order of things for everybody to be satisfied with the conduct of the war.

As has often been declared, congressmen are human beings, no more or less. One quite human trait they have is to dawdle along in some discussion, using up a lot of time over unimportant questions, and then, as the hour grows late, get down to brass tacks and rush through the legislation in hand with the least possible loss of time. On the war finance bill, Majority Leader Kitchin wanted a vote taken on a certain day, but so prelonged was the debate that five o'clock approached and there was still a long way to go. Then Kitchin arose and informed the house that he wanted the bill completely disposed of that evening with the exception of a final vote, no matter how late it was necessary to stay.

"What difference does it make," inquired Minority Leader Gillett, "whether we pass the bill tonight or tomorrow?"

"If we let this go over until tomorrow," replied Kitchin, "it will take all day. It has been my experience in this house that we can do more work between five and seven o'clock than we can in the five preceding hours. And at eight minutes after seven o'clock the house adjourned, with everything ready for a vote the first thing in the morning."

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
